

ADVOTTIC

One calm home for your legal matter

12-Month Social Media Campaign Brief

Brand intake, strategy & 22 campaign concepts

Prepared for: Advottic (Techno Optics LLC)

Prepared by: Brand & Content team

Scope: Consumer app + Advottic for Firms

Voice rule: Calm, private, trustworthy — never fear, hype, or jokes

Confidential draft. Bracketed items and samples require confirmation before publishing.

SOCIAL MEDIA CAMPAIGN BRIEF

1. Brand Overview

Advottic helps people who are facing a legal situation get organized, calm, and prepared. Everything below is written in the brand voice we want the campaign to carry.

1. Brand / app / company / product name?

Advottic. The consumer product is simply Advottic; the firm-facing edition is Advottic for Firms (an internal working name was CounselOptics). One brand, two audiences: individuals and legal teams. Website: advottic.com. Available on iOS and Android and in any browser.

2. What does it do, in simple terms?

Advottic gives every legal matter one calm, private home. You gather your documents and evidence, lay out what happened in a clear timeline, keep an exhibit vault, and get gentle, AI-assisted help understanding and organizing your case, all in one secure place, on your phone or computer.

3. What problem does it solve?

Legal situations are stressful and scattered: files live in email, photos, texts, and paper; deadlines are easy to miss; and it is hard to know what matters. Advottic replaces the shoebox and the sprawling email thread with one organized, private workspace so nothing important gets lost and you walk into every meeting prepared.

4. Why was it created?

Because the people who most need to be organized in a legal matter, individuals in distress and the small firms serving them, have the worst tools. The idea was to build the calm, trustworthy workspace we wished existed: one that respects how vulnerable a legal problem can make someone feel.

5. Who created it, and what inspired it?

Advottic was created by Techno Optics LLC (founder: Abel Muchai). The inspiration was watching how much avoidable harm comes not from the law itself but from disorganization, a lost receipt, a missed filing window, a timeline no one wrote down. [Founder bio and origin story to be finalized with the founder for the campaign.]

6. Main mission?

To help anyone facing a legal matter feel organized, informed, and in control, without needing to be a lawyer.

7. Long-term vision?

To be the trusted home for every legal matter, from the first worried note a person takes to the polished packet a firm hands to opposing counsel, with the same calm experience for individuals and firms alike.

8. What should people immediately understand from our content?

That Advottic is a safe, serious, private place to get a legal situation organized, and that using it makes an overwhelming problem feel manageable.

9. Words that best describe the brand?

Calm, trustworthy, professional, private, clear, supportive, modern, premium, human. We are reassuring and grounded, never loud.

10. Words, phrases, or messages to avoid?

- Anything scary, alarmist, or fear-driven. We never frighten someone who is already anxious.
- Jokey, meme-y, or flippant tone. Legal distress is not a punchline.

- Guarantees of legal outcomes (“win your case,” “beat your landlord”) or combative framing.
- Language that implies Advottic is a law firm or gives legal advice. It is a tool, not a lawyer.
- Hype and clickbait (“this one trick,” “shocking”). It undercuts trust.

PRODUCT

2. Product & App Details

Feature names below are the ones we want reinforced consistently across a year of content.

1. Top features to highlight?

- Case Story, a guided timeline of what happened, in your own words.
- Exhibit Vault, an encrypted place for documents, photos, and files, with folders.
- Bella, the AI assistant that reads your attachments and helps you organize and understand.
- Audit Trail, a clear, tamper-evident record of every action.
- Safe Witness, calm, secure documentation for a moment you need to capture safely.
- In-app document signing and export to a clean, shareable packet.
- Deadline & statute tools (statute-of-limitations, court-deadline calculator).

2. Most important tools / unique capabilities?

Bella (an assistant that takes action and reads your files, not just a chatbot), the encrypted vault with a real audit trail, Safe Witness, and, for firms, branded client intake, SSO, automatic user provisioning (SCIM), and one-click import of matters from another platform.

3. What does it help users do faster / better / easier / cheaper?

Faster: find any document in seconds instead of digging through email. Better: never miss a deadline; walk in prepared. Easier: one guided place instead of five apps. More affordably: for firms, several tools (intake, signing, storage, AI) in one subscription instead of separate vendors.

4. Main benefits?

- Peace of mind, everything about the matter is in one safe place.
- Preparedness, you know your timeline, your evidence, and your dates.
- Privacy, encrypted storage built with attorney-client sensitivity in mind.
- Clarity, plain-language help understanding a confusing situation.

5. What should appear often in screenshots / video?

The Case Story timeline, the Exhibit Vault (with folders), a calm Bella conversation summarizing an uploaded document, the Audit Trail, and the polished exported packet. These are the moments that show the “organized and calm” promise.

6. Features still in development, do not promote yet?

Do not promote anything gated to a specific enterprise IdP integration as “live for everyone” until validated (SSO/SCIM connections require the customer’s identity provider). Treat data-residency options as “on request” rather than a shipped self-serve feature. [Confirm the current not-yet-public list with product before each quarter.]

7. New features launching this year for the calendar?

Cross-platform matter import (bring your history, attachments, and timeline from another system), single sign-on (SSO), and automatic provisioning (SCIM) for firms; folders for the Vault and Contracts on the consumer side. [Exact launch dates to be confirmed with product for the calendar.]

8. Most impressive things it can do?

Bella reading a messy uploaded PDF and returning a plain-language summary and next steps; importing an entire matter, including attachments and history with original dates preserved, from another platform; and producing a court-ready, exhibit-numbered packet from what looked like a pile of files.

9. What do users love most?

[To be confirmed from real usage once available.] Based on the product's strengths we expect: the relief of the first organized timeline, and how quickly Bella makes sense of a confusing document.

10. Features that need more explanation?

Safe Witness (what it is and when to use it), the Audit Trail (why a tamper-evident record matters), and, for firms, SCIM/SSO. These deserve dedicated “how it works” content.

ASSETS

3. Access & Creative Assets

Answers reflect what exists today and what still needs to be produced or provided.

1. App access for screenshots / recordings?

Yes. A marketing-only account can be provisioned. Important house rule: store-bound screenshots must be captured with the device/emulator screenshot button, not simulator CLI tools, so images match what users actually see.

2. Demo account for marketing content?

Yes, a seeded demo account with de-identified sample matters can be provided so no real client data ever appears. [To be provisioned for the agency.]

3. Specific screens / flows to showcase?

Onboarding a new matter, building the Case Story, uploading to the Vault and organizing folders, a Bella summary, signing a document, and exporting the packet. For firms: branded intake and the firm dashboard.

4. Access to Magnific or other photo-generation tools?

[Not currently provided. Please advise if you want us to arrange access, or use your own enhancement stack. We are comfortable with AI-assisted, clearly non-deceptive lifestyle imagery.]

5. Existing brand photos, mockups, videos, logo files?

The live website (advottic.com) and the in-product UI are the primary sources of true-to-brand visuals today. Logo and app icon exist in the app bundle. [A consolidated asset folder, source logo files, and any existing product video should be gathered and shared.]

6. Brand kit (colors, fonts, logos, rules)?

Core palette is defined (see Section 11): deep forest green, gold, and cream, with a calm serif-forward display feel. A formal brand kit can be exported from the design system. [Font license details to confirm.]

7. Existing posts / ads / pages to use as reference?

The /enterprise and consumer landing pages, plus the free tools (statute-of-limitations, court-deadline calculator, security-deposit checker) are strong reference for tone and design.

8. Content styles we like?

Calm, editorial, premium fintech-adjacent design; generous space; muted palette; real UI shown honestly; quiet confidence. Think a trusted bank or a good notary, modernized.

9. Content styles we do NOT like?

Loud meme content, fear-baiting ("your landlord is scamming you!"), cluttered graphics, hard-sell countdown-timer ads, and anything that trivializes a person's legal stress.

10. Real people, screens, lifestyle, graphics, testimonials, animation, or a mix?

A mix, weighted toward honest app screens and calm lifestyle moments (someone finally organized at their kitchen table), with clean motion graphics for "how it works," and testimonials once real ones are collected.

AUDIENCE

4. Target Audience

1. Main audience?

Individuals dealing with a real-life legal matter who are not lawyers: tenants and renters, employees facing a workplace issue, people documenting an incident, those handling a dispute, a claim, or a self-represented case. Roughly 25–55, stressed, motivated, and looking for a trustworthy way to cope.

2. Secondary audience?

Solo attorneys, small law firms, legal aid organizations, and legal-ops / in-house teams who need a shared, audited workspace per matter (the Advottic for Firms edition).

3. Ideal customer age / profession / lifestyle / industry?

Consumer: adults 25–55, digitally comfortable, dealing with housing, employment, family, consumer, or small-claims matters. Firm: 1–50-seat legal practices and legal-aid/legal-ops teams that take privilege and audit trails seriously.

4. What problems do they face before Advottic?

Scattered documents, anxiety about missing a deadline, not knowing what evidence matters, feeling outmatched, and paying for a lawyer's time to do organizing they could do themselves.

5. What motivates them to try something new?

A concrete deadline or event, relief from overwhelm, a recommendation they trust, and proof that the tool is private and secure.

6. Objections before signing up?

- “Is my sensitive information safe here?”
- “Is this giving me legal advice, or replacing my lawyer?” (No, and we say so clearly.)
- “Is it worth paying for?”
- “Is it complicated to set up when I'm already stressed?”

7. Questions new users usually ask?

Is my data private? Do you share it? Can Bella actually help me? Is this legal advice? Can I export everything? How much does it cost? [Validate against real support tickets when available.]

8. Content they respond to best?

Short, calm “how it works” videos; relatable before/after organization stories; clear privacy explainers; and practical, genuinely useful tips (deadlines, what to keep, how to document).

9. Individuals, businesses, organizations, or all?

All of the above, with individuals as the primary focus and firms/organizations as a distinct, higher-value track.

10. Specific communities / cities / industries / niches?

Renters and tenant-rights communities, employees/HR-dispute contexts, small-claims and pro-se communities, and, for firms, solo/small-practice and legal-aid networks. [Prioritize US jurisdictions first; refine target metros with the team.]

EDGE

5. Competitive Advantage

1. What makes Advottic different?

It serves both the anxious individual and the firm with the same calm, private, audited workspace, and it treats the emotional reality of a legal matter with genuine sensitivity. Most tools are either consumer-thin or firm-heavy; Advottic is one trustworthy home for the whole matter.

2. Main competitors?

Consumer: DIY legal-forms and document sites, generic note/cloud-storage apps, and spreadsheets. Firm: traditional case-management suites and stitched stacks (a form builder + Dropbox + a separate e-sign tool + email). [Confirm the named competitor shortlist with the team.]

3. What do we offer that competitors do not?

A guided Case Story timeline, an AI assistant that reads your files and acts, a tamper-evident audit trail, Safe Witness, and, for firms, in-portal signing plus one-click matter import, in a single privacy-first product.

4. Why choose Advottic over another option?

Because it is calm, private, and organized end-to-end, and because it respects that you may be scared and just need one place that makes sense.

5. More affordable / easier / advanced / local / personal / trustworthy?

Most easily described as more trustworthy and more personal, with advanced AI help, and for firms, more affordable than assembling separate tools.

6. Strongest selling point?

One calm, private home for your whole legal matter, from the first note to the final packet.

7. Proof it works / provides value?

The product itself: encrypted storage, a real audit trail, working import that preserves history, and Bella's document summaries. [Quantified proof, time saved, documents organized, deadlines caught, to be measured and added as real usage accrues.]

8. Reviews / testimonials / results / success stories?

[None verified for public use yet. See Section 13 for sample testimonial formats we can collect and use once real customers consent.]

9. Common competitor weakness we solve better?

Competitors fragment the matter across tools (privilege risk, lost files) or feel cold and clinical. Advottic keeps everything in one audited place and feels humane while doing it.

10. What should the brand be known for?

Being the calm, private, trustworthy place to get any legal matter organized.

GOALS

6. Campaign Goals

1. Main goal of the campaign?

Build trust and awareness that leads to qualified sign-ups and app installs, positioning Advottic as the trustworthy home for a legal matter.

2. Awareness / downloads / sign-ups / sales / leads / engagement / trust?

Primary: brand awareness and trust plus app downloads / sign-ups. Secondary: enterprise leads for Advottic for Firms, and an engaged community.

3. Platforms to create for?

Instagram and TikTok (reach, short how-it-works and story content), YouTube (longer explainers/tutorials and Shorts), LinkedIn (firm/enterprise track and founder POV), Facebook (older renter/consumer segments and community groups), and X/Threads (timely tips and support). [Confirm final platform priority + budget split.]

4. What action should people take?

Consumer: install the app / start their first matter. Firm: request a walkthrough. Everyone: follow for calm, useful legal-organization content.

5. Where do we send people?

Consumer to the App Store / Google Play and advottic.com; firms to advottic.com/enterprise (inquiry form). Free tools (statute-of-limitations, deadline calculator) as low-friction landing pages.

6. Monthly / quarterly goals to build around?

Q1 trust & awareness foundation; Q2 feature education + installs; Q3 firm/enterprise push + community; Q4 preparedness/new-year organization + conversion. [Set numeric targets with the team.]

7. Features/services needing more attention in certain months?

Safe Witness and privacy in awareness months; Bella and the Vault in education months; SSO/SCIM/import in the enterprise quarter; deadline tools around tax season and new-year “get organized” moments.

8. Seasonal campaigns / holidays / launches / promos?

New-year “get organized” (January), tax season (Feb–Apr) for document organization, back-to-routine (September), Data Privacy Week (late January), and feature-launch moments for import/SSO/SCIM. [Avoid tone-deaf holiday tie-ins; see Section 8.]

9. How is success measured?

Reach and follower growth (awareness), saves/shares and watch-through (resonance), profile/link clicks, installs and sign-ups (action), and enterprise inquiries (leads).

10. What does a successful year look like?

A recognizable, trusted brand presence; a steady, measurable install/sign-up flow from social; a small library of high-performing evergreen explainers; and a pipeline of firm inquiries, all achieved without ever resorting to fear or hype.

THEMES

7. Content Themes for the Year

1. Major themes to repeat?

(1) Calm in a stressful moment, (2) Privacy you can trust, (3) Getting organized, (4) Understanding your situation, (5) Being prepared.

2. Educational / promotional / inspirational / entertaining / community / trust?

Weighted to educational and trust-building, with inspirational (relief/preparedness) and light promotional support. Minimal pure entertainment; never at the expense of sensitivity.

3. Topics to post every month?

A “how it works” feature spotlight, a privacy/trust explainer, a practical legal-organization tip, and one human/relatable story or testimonial (once available).

4. Questions content should answer?

How do I keep my legal stuff organized? Is my data safe? What is Bella and can it help me? What deadlines matter? Do I need a lawyer to use this? How do firms use it?

5. Myths / misunderstandings to correct?

- “A legal-organization app gives legal advice.” (Advottic organizes and informs; it is not a lawyer.)
- “AI tools aren’t safe with sensitive data.” (Explain our privacy posture honestly.)
- “You need to be tech-savvy or a lawyer to stay organized.” (You don’t.)

6. Behind-the-scenes content?

How we think about privacy and security, why we chose a calm design, how Bella is built to protect your data, and the care behind features like Safe Witness.

7. Founder / brand / customer stories?

The founder’s “why” (disorganization causes avoidable harm), the brand’s calm-by-design philosophy, and customer stories once collected. [Founder story to be captured on video.]

8. Pain points to build content around?

Overwhelm, fear of missing a deadline, lost documents, not knowing what matters, and feeling outmatched.

9. Benefits to repeat often?

Peace of mind, privacy, preparedness, and clarity.

10. Industry trends to connect to?

Access-to-justice and the self-represented majority, responsible/private AI, digital privacy, and the modernization of small legal practices.

CALENDAR

8. Monthly Campaign Planning

A proposed 12-month spine. Themes are illustrative and can be reshaped around confirmed launch dates.

Month	Theme	Focus feature	Seasonal hook	Primary goal
Jan	Fresh start / get organized	Case Story + Vault	New year; Data Privacy Week	Awareness + installs
Feb	Privacy you can trust	Audit Trail; encryption	Tax-doc season begins	Trust + sign-ups
Mar	Make sense of it	Bella (AI assistant)	Tax season	Education + installs
Apr	Never miss a date	Deadline & statute tools	Tax deadline	Engagement + installs
May	One place for everything	Folders; import	Spring reset	Awareness
Jun	For firms	Branded intake; SSO/SCIM	Mid-year firm planning	Enterprise leads
Jul	Prepared, not scared	Safe Witness; packet export	Summer	Trust + community
Aug	Your evidence, organized	Exhibit Vault deep-dive	Back-to-routine prep	Education
Sep	Back to organized	Case Story + reminders	September reset	Installs + sign-ups
Oct	Firms: one workspace	Import + audit + signing	Q4 firm budgets	Enterprise leads
Nov	Peace of mind	Whole-product story	Year-end reflection	Awareness + conversion
Dec	Close the year clear	Export; year-in-review	Year-end / new-year lead-in	Conversion + retention

1. Specific campaigns per month?

See the spine above; each month gets one lead campaign plus evergreen weekly posts. [Lock to confirmed launches.]

2. Product launches / feature updates / announcements planned this year?

Cross-platform matter import, single sign-on (SSO), and automatic provisioning (SCIM) for firms, plus Vault/Contracts folders on the consumer side. [Confirm exact dates so launches anchor the calendar.]

3. Holidays / awareness days that fit?

Data Privacy Week (Jan), tax season (Feb–Apr), and access-to-justice observances. We tie in only where genuinely relevant and respectful.

4. Sales / discounts / giveaways / referrals?

A referral reward and occasional free-trial windows fit; avoid aggressive discounting that cheapens a trust brand. [Confirm offers with the team.]

5. Slow seasons for education / awareness?

Summer (Jul–Aug) leans educational and community-building.

6. Busy seasons for sales / conversion?

January, tax season, and September–December lean toward conversion.

7. Monthly themes (trust, convenience, etc.)?

Yes, one clear theme per month (see table): organization, trust/privacy, clarity, preparedness, and, in firm months, efficiency.

8. One feature per month or several?

One lead feature per month for focus, with supporting features woven into weekly posts.

9. Events / conferences / partnerships / community?

[None confirmed. Legal-aid partnerships and access-to-justice or legal-tech events are strong candidates, please advise.]

10. Dates to avoid posting / promoting?

Avoid promotional pushes on solemn dates and during breaking legal-news tragedies; never opportunistically market around someone's crisis. Keep sensitive posts away from lighthearted holidays.

IDEAS

9. Campaign, Video & Post Ideas

Twenty-two ready-to-brief concepts. Every idea carries the calm, trustworthy voice, no fear, no jokes. Concepts, sample stories, and any figures here are illustrative and must be paired with real assets or verified data before publishing.

#	Concept / feature	Audience	Main message	Goal	Suggested assets	CTA
1	The first calm timeline Case Story	Individuals mid-matter	In five minutes, your scattered story becomes one clear timeline.	Awareness + installs	Screen recording of building a Case Story	Start your first matter free
2	What Bella actually does Bella (AI)	Curious prospects	Not a chatbot, a calm assistant that reads your documents and helps you act.	Education	Screen recording: upload a PDF → plain-language summary	See how Bella helps
3	Where does your legal stuff live right now? Exhibit Vault	Disorganized individuals	Email, texts, photos, paper, one encrypted vault instead.	Awareness	Before/after: cluttered phone vs. tidy Vault	Bring it all into one place
4	Is my information safe here? Encryption + Audit Trail	Privacy-concerned users	Encrypted storage and a tamper-evident record, privacy first, always.	Trust	Motion graphic of the audit trail; privacy explainer	Learn how we protect you
5	Never miss a date again Deadline & statute tools	Pro-se litigants, renters	Know your deadlines before they know you.	Engagement + installs	Deadline calculator tool demo	Check your dates free
6	Prepared, not scared Whole product	Anxious first-timers	You don't need to be a lawyer to walk in prepared.	Awareness + trust	Calm lifestyle + UI montage	Get organized today
7	Safe Witness: capture the moment safely Safe Witness	People documenting an incident	A calm, secure way to document something important when it matters.	Education + trust	Sensitive, tasteful explainer (no reenactment of harm)	See how Safe Witness works
8	From shoebox to signed packet Export + signing	End-of-matter users	Turn a pile of files into a clean, exhibit-numbered packet.	Education	Screen recording: vault → export → signed PDF	See the finished packet
9	Do I need a lawyer to use this? Positioning / FAQ	Hesitant prospects	Advottic organizes and informs; it works with your lawyer, or before you have one.	Trust	Talking-head FAQ with on-screen text	Start free, no pressure
10	Founder's why Brand story	Broad + press	Disorganization, not the law, causes so much avoidable harm. So we built this.	Awareness + trust	Founder interview (to film)	Follow our story
11	A day, organized Case Story + Vault	Working adults	Ten quiet minutes tonight can save a frantic morning later.	Engagement	Lifestyle: kitchen-table organizing	Take ten minutes tonight

#	Concept / feature	Audience	Main message	Goal	Suggested assets	CTA
12	Three tools and a folder, or one workspace Firm edition	Solo & small firms	Stop paying for a stitched stack; put the whole matter in one audited room.	Enterprise leads	Firm dashboard + comparison table	Book a walkthrough
13	Bring your matters with you Cross-platform import	Firms switching tools	Move to Advottic without losing history, attachments, or dates.	Enterprise leads	Import flow screen recording	See how import works
14	Sign in with your organization SSO / SCIM	Firm admins / legal-ops	Your team, provisioned automatically; no rogue accounts, no new passwords.	Enterprise education	Settings screen + IdP diagram	Talk to us about SSO
15	Tips: what to keep and what to toss Education (tips)	Renters, employees	Practical, calm guidance on documenting a situation well.	Education + engagement	Carousel of do/keep tips	Save this for later
16	The receipt that saved the case Audit Trail / Vault	Skeptics	Small, organized evidence beats a big, messy pile, every time.	Awareness	Illustrative story graphic (clearly a sample)	Keep everything in one place
17	Myth vs. fact: AI and your private data Privacy education	Privacy-concerned	Being careful with sensitive data and using AI are not opposites.	Trust	Myth/fact carousel	Read our privacy approach
18	60-second app tour Whole product	New prospects	Here's the whole calm workspace in one minute.	Installs	Fast, honest screen tour	Download and try it
19	Answering your top questions FAQ series	Prospects + users	Real answers to "is it private," "what does it cost," "can I export."	Trust + conversion	Short FAQ reels	Ask us anything
20	Paid ad: One calm home for your legal matter Whole product	Cold prospects	Feeling overwhelmed by a legal situation? Start with one organized, private place.	Installs / sign-ups	Clean UI hero + one line of copy	Get organized, free to start
21	Paid ad (firms): Your matter, one audited room Firm edition	Firm decision-makers	Intake, vault, signing, and audit in one workspace.	Enterprise leads	Firm dashboard hero	Book a 20-minute walkthrough
22	Year in review: close the year clear Export + reflection	Existing users	End the year knowing every matter is organized and backed up.	Retention	Calm year-end montage	Export your year

VOICE

10. Brand Voice & Messaging

1. Tone?

Calm, warm, and grounded. Confident without being loud. We speak the way a trusted, level-headed friend who happens to be organized would, never alarming someone who is already anxious.

2. Professional / friendly / premium / funny / bold / emotional / simple / educational?

Professional, friendly, premium, emotionally aware, simple, and educational. Not funny or bold-for-its-own-sake.

3. “We,” “you,” or neutral?

Primarily “you” (reassuring and personal), with “we” when we talk about how Advottic protects you. Avoid cold, faceless corporate voice.

4. Corporate / personal / community / modern startup?

Personal and modern, with the quiet credibility of a serious institution. Human first, premium second.

5. Taglines / slogans / key phrases?

- “One calm home for your legal matter.”
- “Every matter, one room.” (firm edition)
- “Prepared, not scared.”
- “Get organized. Feel in control.” [Taglines are proposed, confirm/lock with the team.]

6. Messages that must appear in certain posts?

Privacy/security posts should state our encryption and audit-trail commitments plainly. Any post that could be mistaken for advice must carry the not-legal-advice line (see next).

7. Legal disclaimers / required wording?

Standard line: “Advottic is a tool to help you organize and understand your matter. It is not a law firm and does not provide legal advice.” Use on any content touching legal substance. [Final wording to be approved by counsel.]

8. Local / national / global?

National (US) first, with globally-applicable organization/privacy themes. Jurisdiction-specific legal details should stay general or be clearly scoped.

9. Emotion / features / benefits / results?

Lead with emotion (relief, control) and benefits; support with features; add results once we have verified data.

10. Feeling people should have after our content?

“This feels safe and trustworthy, and it looks like it would actually make my situation easier. I feel calmer already.”

VISUAL

11. Visual Direction

1. Visual style that fits?

Calm, editorial, and premium. Lots of breathing room, restrained palette, honest product UI, and soft, humane lifestyle imagery. A modern, trustworthy, finance-grade feel.

2. Modern / clean / premium / playful / bold / minimal / colorful / elegant / tech?

Modern, clean, premium, minimal, and elegant. Not playful, not loud-colorful, not aggressively “techy.”

3. Colors to use?

Deep forest green (approx. #0F2D24), warm gold (approx. #C6A863), and soft cream (approx. #F6F1E6), with emerald as a quiet accent. [Exact hex values to be confirmed from the brand kit.]

4. Colors to avoid?

Alarm colors used as the dominant tone, harsh reds, warning-yellow, siren tones, and neon/high-saturation palettes. Red only as a small, careful accent, never fear-coded.

5. Photography / mockups / 3D / illustration / icons / lifestyle / mixed?

Mixed, led by honest app mockups and calm lifestyle photography, supported by clean iconography and restrained motion graphics. Minimal heavy 3D.

6. People using the app, or mostly screens/graphics?

Both: real people in calm, relatable moments and honest screen captures. People for empathy, screens for proof.

7. Video / reels / carousels / static / stories / all?

All formats. Reels/Shorts and carousels do the heaviest lifting; static and stories support; longer YouTube explainers anchor evergreen education.

8. Logo files (PNG / SVG / transparent)?

Logo and app icon exist in-product. [Please provide source SVG and transparent PNG lockups; we can also export from the design system.]

9. Preferred fonts?

A calm serif-forward display face for headlines with a clean humanist sans for body. [Exact families + licenses to confirm from the brand kit.]

10. Brand examples for inspiration?

The look and feel of trusted, calm fintech and premium-service brands (quiet luxury, not startup-loud). The advottic.com /enterprise page is the closest internal reference. [Share any specific admired brands.]

JOURNEY

12. Customer Journey Content

1. What should someone know before signing up?

That Advottic is private and secure, easy to start, not a law firm, and designed to make an overwhelming situation feel manageable.

2. What should they understand after visiting our page?

"This is a calm, trustworthy place to organize my legal matter, and I can start in minutes."

3. What builds trust in the brand?

Plain-language privacy/security explanations, the visible audit trail, honest product demos, the not-legal-advice clarity, and real testimonials once collected.

4. Content to convert the interested-but-unsure?

FAQ reels answering privacy and cost, a 60-second honest tour, a free tool (deadline calculator), and a low-pressure "start free" message.

5. Content to keep existing users engaged?

Tips, feature deep-dives (Bella, folders, export), gentle reminders about deadlines, and year-end "close the year clear" prompts.

6. Content that encourages sharing?

Genuinely useful tip carousels, the free tools, and relatable "finally organized" stories, plus a referral reward.

7. Content that explains value quickly?

The 60-second tour and the before/after "where does your legal stuff live?" concept.

8. Ideal journey from post to customer?

See a calm, useful post → follow / click → land on a free tool or the app page → install / start a matter → experience the first organized timeline → subscribe → refer someone.

9. Most common reasons people don't complete sign-up?

Privacy worry, unclear value, cost hesitancy, and overwhelm/friction while stressed. [Validate with real funnel data.]

10. Content to remove those barriers?

Privacy explainers, the honest tour, transparent pricing/FAQ, and "start in 5 minutes, free" messaging.

PROOF

13. Testimonials, Proof & Trust

We have no verified public testimonials or usage figures yet. Below are clearly-labeled SAMPLE formats to collect and use once real customers consent, never to publish as-is.

1. Testimonials / reviews available?

[None verified for public use yet. Sample formats below.]

2. Case studies / success stories?

[To be developed once consenting customers exist. Suggested structure: situation → what was scattered → how Advottic organized it → outcome/relief.]

3. Data on results / growth / time saved / satisfaction?

[To be measured. Candidate metrics: documents organized per matter, deadlines surfaced, minutes to first organized timeline, retention. Do not cite numbers until measured.]

4. Partnerships / certifications / awards / media?

[None to confirm for public use yet. Any security posture claims (e.g., SOC 2) must be verified before publishing.]

5. Customer photos / videos / quotes?

[To be gathered with explicit written consent.]

6. Can we request testimonials from users?

Yes, via an in-app prompt and email after a positive milestone, always opt-in and privacy-safe.

7. Privacy rules around using names / images / stories?

Strict. Given the sensitivity of legal matters, use only with explicit written consent; default to first name + initial or full anonymization; never reveal matter details that could identify anyone.

8. Trust points to repeat?

Encryption at rest and in transit, the tamper-evident audit trail, “we don’t sell your data,” and “not a law firm; your matter stays yours.” [Confirm each claim against current implementation before use.]

9. Security / safety / privacy features to promote?

Encrypted vault, audit trail, private-by-design AI (your data isn’t used to train outside models), biometric/device sign-in, and, for firms, SSO and role-scoped access.

10. What makes users feel safe?

Calm design, plain-language privacy, visible control (export anytime, see every action), and a brand that clearly respects their situation.

SAMPLE testimonial formats (illustrative, not real, replace before publishing):

“For the first time since this started, everything is in one place. I stopped waking up at 3 a.m. worried I’d lost something.”

— Sample renter testimonial (to be replaced with a consenting user)

"Bella read the letter I couldn't make sense of and told me, calmly, what it meant and what to do next."

— Sample individual testimonial (illustrative)

"We moved three years of matters over without losing a single attachment or date. Our team was productive the same day."

— Sample small-firm testimonial (illustrative)

CTA

14. Offers & Calls to Action

1. What should every post encourage?

One clear, low-pressure next step, usually “start your first matter free” (consumer) or “book a walkthrough” (firm), or simply “follow / save this.”

2. Which CTA wording?

Consumer: “Start free,” “Get organized today,” “Try Advottic.” Firm: “Book a walkthrough,” “Talk to us.” Community: “Follow for calm, useful tips,” “Save this for later.”

3. Special offers / trials / discounts / referrals?

A free way to start plus a referral reward fit the brand. [Confirm trial length and any referral incentive with the team; avoid heavy discounting.]

4. Different CTAs for different audiences?

Yes, install/sign-up for individuals; walkthrough/inquiry for firms; follow/save for top-of-funnel.

5. Landing page / link to send people to?

advottic.com (consumer), the App Store / Google Play listings, advottic.com/enterprise (firms), and free-tool pages as low-friction entry points.

6. Traffic to website / store / storefront / inbox / form?

Consumer to app stores + site; firms to the enterprise inquiry form; awareness content to the free tools and profile.

7. Lead magnets / guides / demos / free resources?

The free tools (statute-of-limitations, court-deadline calculator, security-deposit checker) and a possible “how to organize your legal matter” guide are strong, on-brand lead magnets.

8. Membership plans / subscriptions / packages to explain?

Consumer subscription tiers and firm custom pricing. [Provide current tier names, prices, and what's included so we can build accurate pricing content.]

9. Most valuable action a customer can take?

Starting and actively using their first matter (activation), which drives retention and word-of-mouth.

10. What should the audience do after a post/video?

Take the single CTA, or at minimum save/follow so we stay their trusted resource when they need us.

WORKFLOW

15. Content Approval & Workflow

Proposed process, to be confirmed with the Advottic team.

1. Who approves content before posting?

Founder / brand owner (Abel Muchai) or a designated brand lead. [Confirm approver.]

2. How far in advance to submit for review?

Proposed: monthly calendar approved ~2 weeks ahead; individual assets ~5 business days before posting.

3. Contact for brand questions?

[To be designated, likely the founder / brand lead.]

4. Contact for app / product questions?

[To be designated, likely product/engineering point of contact.]

5. Legal / compliance / brand approval requirements?

Any content touching legal substance needs the not-legal-advice line and a light legal review. Security/privacy claims must be verified against the current build before publishing.

6. How often to review the calendar?

Monthly calendar review, with a lightweight weekly check-in.

7. Delivery cadence (weekly / monthly / quarterly / all)?

Proposed: quarterly strategy, monthly calendar + assets delivered in a batch, weekly publishing.

8. Include captions, hashtags, graphics, videos, schedules?

Yes, every deliverable includes copy, captions, hashtags, the visual/video, and the posting schedule.

9. Who publishes?

[To confirm: agency-managed or in-house. We recommend agency-managed for consistency.]

10. Manage posting, scheduling, engagement, reporting?

Recommended yes, full management, so the calm brand voice stays consistent, including community replies handled with the same sensitivity. [Confirm scope.]

REPORTING

16. Reporting & Performance

1. Metrics that matter most?

Trust and action metrics: saves/shares, watch-through, profile/link clicks, installs, sign-ups, activation (first matter started), and enterprise inquiries.

2. Reach / engagement / clicks / sign-ups / downloads / sales / leads / followers?

Prioritized: installs & sign-ups > clicks & engagement (saves/shares) > enterprise leads > reach & followers.

3. How often to report?

Monthly performance report, with a quarterly strategic review.

4. Platforms to track?

All active platforms, plus app-store and site analytics for downstream conversion.

5. Existing analytics access?

[Please provide access to app-store consoles, site analytics, and any attribution tooling.]

6. Content that performed well before?

[No prior social baseline provided; this campaign sets it.]

7. Content that didn't perform?

[None on record yet.]

8. Benchmarks to aim for?

[Set realistic baselines in month 1, then target quarter-over-quarter growth in installs and engagement.]

9. Test messages / visuals / CTAs?

Yes, ongoing light A/B on hooks, CTAs, and thumbnails, while holding the calm voice constant.

10. How to adjust future content on performance?

Double down on formats that drive saves/installs, retire underperformers, and feed learnings into the next monthly calendar, always within the brand-voice guardrails.

CHECKLIST

■ Anything else for accuracy	Ongoing	Founder story/bio, verified metrics, and consenting testimonials to be gathered.

SUBMISSION

18. Submission Notes

1. Format

This brief is delivered as a single, section-organized PDF, matching the requested submission format.

2. How to read it

Sections 1–17 answer the intake questionnaire in order. Section 9 contains 22 ready-to-brief campaign/video/post concepts with audience, message, goal, assets, and CTA for each.

3. A note on examples

Where real assets or data did not exist, we created clearly-labeled illustrative examples (proposed taglines, the 12-month calendar spine, and sample testimonial formats). Everything marked [in brackets] or labeled “sample/illustrative” needs the Advottic team’s confirmation or real data before publishing.

4. The one rule that governs everything

Advottic speaks to people who may be frightened and overwhelmed. Every post must feel calm, private, and trustworthy. We never use fear, hype, or jokes to sell a legal-distress product.
